Review of Playground Rules!

Reviewed by Fiona Betts, Entertainment reporter

Playground Rules! is a tremendous film. It is about a group of children who work together to save their playground. The film is set in an inner-city suburb in Melbourne.

The main characters are Zac and his sister, Ella. Zac and Ella are angry because their local council decides to build apartments on their favourite playground. They want to save their playground so they think of ways to change the council's mind. Their parents tell them they won't succeed, yet this doesn't stop them from trying.

The film is especially entertaining because there is always something exciting happening. The acting is terrific because the characters are really interesting and believable. The ending is extremely satisfying because the children learn that they can make a difference. The whole family will thoroughly enjoy the film.
