Lost at the Festival

Jade and her brother, Max, were walking around the Lantern Day Festival. The streets and parks were decorated with beautiful Chinese lanterns and brightly coloured lights. Jade and Max were having a wonderful time. “Do you feel like some dumplings?” asked Jade. “That’s a terrific idea! Let’s look around for a place to eat,” replied Max.

Jade saw that the lion dance was starting. She wandered over to get a closer look. “This festival is so exciting, isn’t it Max?” exclaimed Jade. Jade turned around to speak to Max, but she couldn’t see him. “Max! Max! Where are you?” shouted Jade. Jade thought she was lost!

“Here I am Jade. I was looking for a place to buy dumplings. I turned around and you were gone,” called Max.

“I was watching the lion dance. I’m sorry Max. I promise I won’t wander away again,” said Jade.
